Correspondence and news are solicited from all readers of the Gazette. Every one knows of some interesting facts or happenings that others would like to know about.

While we have a liberal scope of regular columns, there is much interest in the nature of things, they cannot get. Let your interest in our local paper and city in your letter lead us to add in making the Gazette more useful and new.

ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT BOSTON,
MASS., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, NOV. 5, 1897.

Dick Underwood and Tom Platt are top and the poor people get left as usual.

Col. Lowell gets a handsome vote total and is one of the most popular men in the state today. It will set Governor Bay.

Mr. Seth will continue as an honest side private citizen, which after all, as politics go today, is perhaps the most honorable position a man may hold.

Governor Weld has received another very large vote, which is given by the people of Massachusetts who have and respect him for his many fine qualities.

The editor acknowledges the receipt of a copy of the new anthem, "Sing on Heaven," for Christmas by John H. Gitterman. The piece is pleasing, not difficult, and will be a welcome addition to the repertoire of Christmas music.

The Tammany Tiger had longer claws than many people thought. Those innocent persons who held that by increasing the state tax on beer, Cigar powers of Tammany could be lowered can now review their judgment after the easy walk over Sherman Croker has had.

Mr. E. R. Nevin is returned to the general Court by a good vote. His record has been excellent, and he is sure to be reelected again by a sound majority.

There was a disposition on the part of Weymouth republicans last year to criticize this Braintree Republicans for not fairly supporting the Weymouth candidate. This year the republicans of Weymouth have, to thank them, Braintree leaders for saving the election of a representative for them. This should square the account.

Mr. John R. Whelan, the democratic candidate for representative, put up a good fight and should feel highly complimented to be elected to represent the town of Weymouth but was defeated in Braintree, small plurality in Weymouth. The day was favorable to him, the weather contributing to the result. The public opinion of every session which he had in Braintree was a decided plus for him. He is a man of great ability and will be a welcome addition to the representative of the people.

He was a good fighter personally, and instances of preservation of youthful strength and vigor in many years are not uncommon. He is a man who is destined to believe in early days of physical beauty and strength, especially in our women, and permit the decline to continue with a passing sigh. Most women have a work load in the early twenties—the figure of youth, and from that time on they rapidly decline. Let everybody to whom this word may apply, and woman alike, "congratulate yourself on your good fortune, and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled."

fall far short of the straight Republican line. It is quite likely, however, that reason will eventually appear in the service of the party. The Republican party endorsed Mr. Low's nomination as they would probably have done but for his opposition to the defeat of Tammany. In fact, however, in modern politics, as it is, there is no room for the old fashioned party. However, the Republicans seem to have attracted more votes than both the A.M. Tracy have received. The sober, good-government-loving citizens throughout the country will feel a sense of depression at the loss of Tammany, but the loss will be lessened in that the club has taken up the work of improving Weymouth and will secure a congressional appropriation two years earlier.

The club invited a guest for this occasion, Congressman Lovett and Barrett for the purpose of introducing the object in view. Mr. Lovett came on early in the morning and was for a short time the guest of Col. Lovett, who had invited him to attend him. Masonic building where the meeting was held was filled from 3:00 to 7:00 o'clock, at which time the large party marched to the Tammany hall, where they were entertained by the Tammany band, and the Tammany's song from Fred's Concerts.

The concert last evening was without exception a success. The audience was filled with admiration and in addition to all of the modern appliances there was an elegant drug cabinet painted by Artist John Hartman of Boston.

WOULD LIKE ALASKA.

Russia Bitterly Reprots Her Rush Sale of Rich Gold Fields

Grand Duke Paul Scheming—Would Like to Pick a Quarrel with Us.

Copyright, 1897.

Few Americans are aware of the fact that Russia, huge, powerful, despotic Russia, has sold her vast territories of Alaska to the United States, and that in the more minute gold fields in the czar's capital today there is a dead of bluster about the mistaken policy which turned over so rich a field to the czar.

This sentiment has been growing for several years, but the dissenters of the Muskeg gold fields has greatly stimulated it. For Alaska, with all its resources, is the most valuable gold field in the world, and I would have had the mining of those vast deposits of the yellow metal.

And, having reached her station, she tenderly conveys her purchase out of the east while her friend still madly urges him to make his fortune.

REWARDS OF THE GOLD-GEEKER

Lured Five Years to Canada

"Something in man finds gold," said an old timer who had been talking Klondyke. "But more often he finds the thermometer and barometer and sun-starvation than the Klondyke. However, and many men stick to it purely from a love of the gambling there is in it, and that they care anything about the pleasures they may willfully ignore."

He returned to the Klondyke in 1896, to Lester's Hollow in California away back in the '60's. There was quite a camp near him, but it did not mix with anybody. He washed dirt all day long, since he had no time to sit still after dinner and smoke, and...

"Oh, he doesn't smoke. Van don't up pace to do anything. An encourage smoking, though, with 'em. When I was in the Klondyke, who had, having reached her station, she tenderly conveys her purchase out of the east while her friend still madly urges him to make his fortune.

And, having reached her station, she tenderly conveys her purchase out of the east while her friend still madly urges him to make his fortune.

But he had to wait, too. Didn't he mind that?"

"Not a bit. You see, it is a lovely singeing set, an ornament for the B. & P. They are very expensive, the women say, and I wanted to show him that I was not always thinking just of myself, but could spend money for his comfort, too."

One of our more garrulous and talkative miners in Yukon, however, and scholarly composition has been steadily and authoritatively recognized that some of the learned medical critics are viewing the opera as a standard by which to judge the merits of new plays.

It is a fact that the Wintario the Nile is high, and it fully deserves such rating. Last night no one heard it last year, since it was first produced in 1895, and plans, could have failed to discover manifold new beauties missed on the first hearing. One could easily pick out a dozen favorite scenes opened in all of the acts, and the critics, who were not much more than children, in their enthusiasm, could hardly have failed to notice them. There is not another in it that is uninteresting, nor is it for small minded critics that it is a masterpiece.

This year's presentation of the work will be identically the same elaborate set that made it the talk of New York and the entire country. In view of the decided interest shown in the play, it is not surprising that it is not distinguished for mediocrity, but for the quality, commonly called catchiness, as it is for solid minded worth.

But to love a country full of gold, money—not to lose, to willingly leave the land in which gold was found, then leave to start it off? Ay, there's the rub. Perhaps there will have been no need in welcome President

February, but he could not let me have the money, then, and he's such a dear good soul I just waited and waited till he could. It will be just as much of a surprise to him because he has forgotten me, and I have to tell him.

"But he has had to wait, too. Didn't he mind that?"

"THE WIZARD OF THE NILE"

At The Boston Grand Opera House.

It is universally known well-qualified theatrical people and acknowledged by the trade as theatrical managers, that the Boston Grand Opera House is the Wizard of the Nile. For two years a greater money-maker than all the light opera companies of this country put together could boast. This may seem an exaggeration, and it is, nevertheless, a trifle, and the Wizard of the Nile is the most popular and worth of the most successful piece ever written by Americans.

One of our more garrulous and talkative miners in Yukon, however, and scholarly composition has been steadily and authoritatively recognized that some of the learned medical critics are viewing the opera as a standard by which to judge the merits of new plays.

The Quincy Advertiser was 14 years old and had a good start, but it has not been able to keep up with the increasing sign. Eliza Greene has our wishes for many years of successful journalism. She is now an editor, a child of the old Quincy Patriot.

We publish this week the proclamation of President McKinley and Governor Walcott for a day of Thanksgiving to be observed on the 27th inst. As we have had, throughout the country, an unprecedented and unusual increase in the number of prosperity in manufacturing and business circles, there are many things to be thankful for and no doubt a large extent the day will be observed in spirit, as well as in form.

The old form of assessment income has received another severe setback in the collapse of the Bay State Bond Company.

There are some few members in the town who are still holding on to life insurance, while it may not be so cheap will be safer. The Bay State is still in the hands of the same men who started it, and at one time was under the management of the Bay State Bond Company.

The Bay State has been in existence for a long time, and there have been differences between the members and the directors and the managers over the time. The Bay State is still in the hands of the same men and the affairs of the Bay State will be wound up. The old form of assessment, insurance whereby people were led to believe that they were to get a great deal for a very little, is done away with, and legislation will probably pass soon to make it illegal to direct the affairs of the people by the same men who started it.

The Bay State had 12,000 members.

Don't think because you are sick and nothing seems to give you relief that you can't be cured.

There must be a cure for something else. Doctors can't cure you, perhaps he has mistaken the cause. Anybody is liable to make a mistake sometimes.

One in three of us suffer from indigestion, and one out of three dyspepsists doesn't know it. That's the kind of hock job sick but he likes it.

Indigestion is the cause of half of our dreadful diseases.

Shaker Digestive Cordial, made from tonic medicinal roots and herbs, is the best medicine for indigestion. It cures the disease gently, naturally, efficiently, giving fresh strength and health to sickly bodies.

At druggists. A trial bottle for 25 cents.

Twenty-seven pastel drawings by J.
A. Thompson will be exhibited at the Field, May, Cottage at Broome, Weymouth;

Miserable Lives Made Happy.

Health brings misery into our lives and the lives of others. Continued physical exercise, diet, and rest numbers of people live out their lives under these hard conditions because the university of life has all beyond the limits of treatment and cure. The disease gently, naturally, efficiently, giving fresh strength and health to sickly bodies.

Few People Have Eyes Alike.

Fifty-nine-tenths of those who wear glasses have different vision in each eye. Sometimes it is a decided difference, in others only a slight variation. A careful examination will fail to bring out this defect—the same lenses would be adjusted to one eye—and headaches and eye strain that medicine fails to relieve is the result. I test each eye separately, select proper lenses, adjust glasses to suit both eyes first as complete as Test Glasses is made.

No extra charge for testing the eyes. Gold Spectacles, $1.00 to $5.00. If you are having any trouble with your eyes or head call and see if I can't relieve you.

yesterday and swears that he will not come any more.

"Well, and as he is now out of the way, you may get rid of him."

"Yes, I will. You shall never marry her with my consent."

"Oh, I think so. Will you promise me one thing?"

"I don't know, but what is it?"

"I will say you will bring her to church to-morrow."

"I don't know. Why do you want me there?"

"To say you thankful in the presence of your neighbors."

"Impossible. But if you will make me a promise—but I ought not to ask this."

"I don't know what it is, but I'll tell you what I will agree to. If you are not thankful on this occasion, I will agree to withdraw in favor of the Red Steer."

"It will be there," said the widow.

The sermon was to be preached by an old man. The congregation was large. A mysterious whisper had gone about that something unusual might be expected when he arose. He looked from time to time toward a side door. The widow and her daughter sat well toward the front of the room.

And when he went back a crowd, and once it had been thought that he was for you all. I have stolen the time to give you all the education I had—have hidden our books in the walls, because your father thought they were foolish."

"It is very tragic indeed."

Grown children with the silver in their hands, and with them, marked by hesitation tread.

And then saluted, their own dear offspring fair.

Affrighted still, but grandma's voice assayed.

And cloudy skies begin at once to clear.

She sits on her own ease fainting heart aches.

And pretties to have the atmosphere;

That the razeddy man,

Napoleon.

A goshen does astir,

Upon Thanksgiving day.

But to the last he was a bad boy.

MERCHANTS' WEEK.

In our 61 years' experience in the furniture business we have never before done what we shall do during the forthcoming Merchants' Week. We shall reduce the price of every piece of furniture in our immense stock.

This would mean very little for an ordinary furniture store, but with us it means selling goods for six days at about the actual cost of manufacture.

Our present prices are based on the low rents of the wholesale district, and are at least 10 per cent. under all other stores. Deduct the Merchants' Week discount, and it is almost less than the goods cost us.

This Parlor Centre Table is a fair sample of over 3000 other cases. It is solid oak, in rich quartered grain, with full grained box framing, carved corners and high polish finish. The lower shelf is very spacious, measuring 16 inches in diameter at its narrowest point.

Just for a test, try to buy this Table under $15 in any store in this country. Our price for Merchants' Week will be $7.00.

We pay freight charges to Weymouth.

HEARD AND READ.
Being a collection of pamphlets and books by our editors.

Good manners are more serviceable than a poor part, a bank account or a fortune.

Godhead! help yourself! in body will stay you, man, woman or child, in the way of honesty, and come—speriled you are held enough, and not held.

Great moments are something that no one can afford to do without, no matter how rich, how powerful, or how intelligent he may be.

If any one of us—the most insignificant would note down his every thought, with all its care, we should be well off. So should, also, we hold nothing back, but that is another thing.

Some of us have more up and down in this world than others, but when we get to the cemetery we will all be on a dead level.

The enterprising city of Lynn is to have a new public library building which, when completed, will be second to none in the state outside of that of Boston.

California must be trying to fit this country with mines. This year's crop in that state is estimated to be worth $20,000,000, which is a good deal more than the total product of the gold mines of California.

As Mrs. John D. Long is not adducted to any social affairs on Washington, Miss Helen Long is resting in her home. Miss Margaret Long, the dear daughter, is studying medicine at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Our southward watching is much more pleasant than is generally supposed. A section in good physical condition is more liable to ticks, and will not fall victim to them unless he is grossly careless. Keep the feet warm and dry, the head cool, the bowels and chest well-preserved.

Will you think me when I am gone?" he asked.

"I shall be glad to," she replied with a smile, "if you will make it possible."

Then he went.

In Weymouth, N. E., the other day, three friends of the same wife and mother called upon her and her husband spouse. A pleasant reunion followed and it was decided to hold an annual convention henceforth every year.

"John," said a minister, "I hope your father lives in the favor of the Lord."

"I guess he does," he never goes out Sunday without his books.

A prominent capitalist who was recently offered for $25,000 an interest in a litho-type machine was willing to pay $20,000 a month from the start, responded with this message: "Pay him out of the next month's earnings. Send the surplus at once."

Cincinnati Enquirer—After got back from a vacation down on the farm," said the pulled man. "The room was cleaned, the meat was salted, the butter was strong—" "Right!" said the boy holding fresh butter. "I think you look right, I believe I did get a fresh cold every day."

Winter, with all its under changes, will soon be upon us, and an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, it would be wise for every person to look after the clothing of the family, as well as their own. It is safe to say that if one's return comes there will be more gravy than meat had the mother looked well to her little loved one's clothing.

A Pittsburg, Pa., lawyer has awarded a woman a verdict of $1,000 against a liquor dealer because he allowed his husband to load up with liquor at his bar, in consequence of which the husband was run over by a freight train.

WEYLER'S SUCCESSOR.

Gen. Diaz is still the active and most popular leader.

Ramon Blanco Ayala, who succeeds Weyler as commander-in-chief of the Spanish forces in Cuba and as governor of the island, is no very hard at rule. He has to have the support of the Philipine islands to handle the disaffected subjects there, and his success, judged from the bitter standpoint, was not what he desired.

Cubans in New York have no interest, nor for the most part any regard, for Weyler and anticipate no relief from the bloody methods that have marked the revolution.

course of Spain during the present revolution. He is even liked by some good friends of Cuba here that Blanco will not be given to even greater severity than Weyler.

With the additional force of 20,000 men at his command Blanco will have more power than Weyler possessed.

His quarters in Cuba it is said that Weyler himself is really a kindly, peaceful man, inclined to use mild methods, and it is declared that to compare him with Weyler is unfair, but these same persons admit that when Blanco is down to be brutal and unmerciful he can be fit in the most unapprised manner.

In 1879 Blanco was commissioned vice-governor of Cuba. This was just after the suppression of the bid revolution, and he was sent to the island to continue the half-police work.

For his services he was made a general and continued the half-police work.

He had but kept his post a few years when he was recalled to Madrid, and he remained there until 1885.

He was then appointed to the Spanish army, who accepted him.
